

Personalized Specialty Infusion Care Designed for Your Unique Health Needs

People are not their medical conditions. They are much more unique. More complex.

Individuals who have a diagnosis that requires specialty infusions must navigate a complex care system...while navigating their daily lives. They worry about expensive high out of pocket healthcare costs year over year. They spend hours receiving infusions, and sometimes days recovering. They deal with lingering condition symptoms and side effects from the treatments for those conditions.

Quantify was built with these unique individuals in mind.

How do I manage my symptoms and treatment side effects?

Is there someone who can help?

Where do I go for treatments?

How am I going to pay for everything?

Is My Treatment Right for Me?

Individuals receiving specialty infusions have high out of pocket medical costs. Every year.

Specialty infusion therapies are some of the highest cost treatments in healthcare. And individuals who receive infusions are often on them for years.

We believe that specialty infusions are life enabling treatments, and that the cost of those treatments shouldn't add to the burden of needing to receiving them. Because of that, Quantify provides those therapies at no cost to the member

* In order for out-of-pocket expenses to be waived you must use a Quantify Specialty Care's infusion centers or at-home infusion services. Please note that some expenses cannot be waived for high deductible plans.

Complex medical conditions require more attention. From you, and the people supporting you.

Managing complex medical conditions with specialty therapies is difficult, and they are easier to manage with support. Because of that we provide a personalized clinical support system, that starts with understanding the individual person.. not just their condition

Providing tailored treatments means considering symptoms, side effects, and correct dosing. To do that requires being able to see physiologic data.

By utilizing the best healthcare technologies, we can measure and track personal vitals remotely. That allows us to understand personal baselines and medication responses. Understanding that lets us deliver more personalized and accurate care.

Physiologic data is sent to us automatically through a wearable device

Your personal clinical care team reviews your vitals daily

Your data is used to optimize your personal care

Personalizing Specialty Infusions is Also About the Convenience of Receiving Them.

In today's world, where the lines between home and work are increasingly blurred, your health should not take a backseat. We understand that specialty infusions require time, a commodity more precious than ever. That's why we've tailored our infusion services to fit seamlessly into your lifestyle. With flexible scheduling and the convenience of at-home treatments, we bring the care to you, saving you time and allowing you to receive treatment in the comfort of your own space. It's healthcare that keeps up with you, ensuring that your treatment is as uninterrupted as your life.

Home infusion service: Most therapies can be done in the home. Because of that we provide the same treatments you receive today in your home, and around your schedule.

In Clinic infusion service: For those therapies that require clinical administration we offer 65 clinical location, and transportation to those clinics at no cost to you.
